French-American Chamber of Commerce, Philadelphia Chapter
Serving Pennsylvania, Delaware & Southern New Jersey

The French-American Chamber of Commerce (FACC), Philadelphia Chapter, serves Pennsylvania, Delaware and Southern New Jersey as a thriving, non-profit, member-supported business association with over 300 globally-minded American, international and French business leaders representing companies of all sizes in our region.

Thanks to significant French business investment in our region and the continuing global expansion of American companies, the Philadelphia Chapter has grown since 1989 to become one of the largest in the nationwide FACC network. Additionally, the FACC ranks as one of the largest and most active of 12 binational chambers of commerce serving the Greater Philadelphia area.

The FACC is a member of CCI France International, a French organization that unites the Chambers of Commerce and Industry within France with 120 French binational chambers and business associations abroad, operating in 90 countries around the world.

A Diverse Membership

There is an FACC membership level to suit companies of every size. We have a diverse membership with business leaders representing a wide array of industries such as: pharmaceutical, biotech, chemical, healthcare, green energy, financial services, law, logistics, insurance, hospitality, accounting, real estate, technology, manufacturing, safety, food and wine, beauty, transportation, economic development, and much more.

Our membership features many small and medium-sized businesses, including developers of medical devices, cybersecurity consultants, financial service providers, marketing and consulting firms, POEs, importers, exporters, and creative entrepreneurs.
